Guard against misuse

Guest tickets should give you the chance to invite customers or business partners, who are especially important for you, personally to visit your booth. Consequently, you as the purchaser of guest tickets certainly want to ensure that the guest tickets, which you will pay for, are only used by those persons for whom they are intended. Consequently, we recommend that you address your guest tickets personally to someone you know or directly to the company's management or owner. Guest tickets and admission tickets are non-transferable. Improper use will result in confiscation of guest and admission tickets.
